Yellow warning
Snow & Ice

Between 15:00 Sat 6 Feb 2021 and
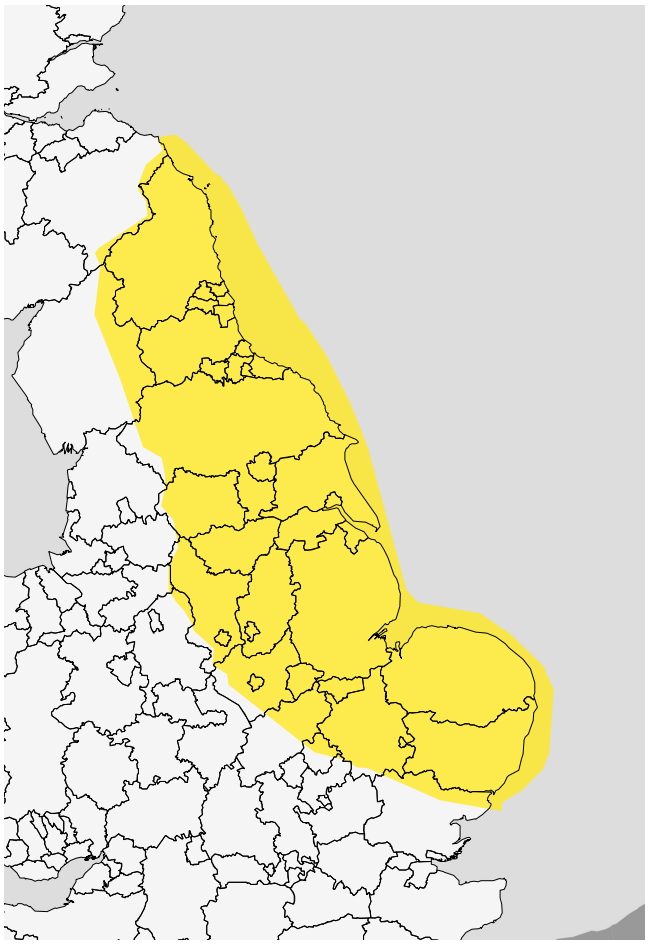
23:59 Mon 8 Feb 2021



Cold conditions will persist through the weekend and into the following week with some disruption from snow and ice possible

What to expect

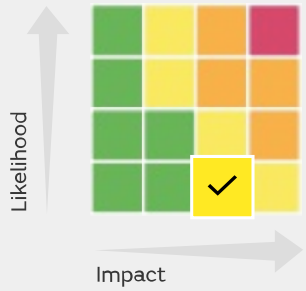
- There is a small chance of travel delays on roads with some stranded vehicles and passengers, along with delayed or cancelled rail and air travel
- There is a small chance that power cuts will occur and other services, such as mobile phone coverage, may be affected
- There is a slight chance that some rural communities could become cut off
- A small chance that untreated pavements and cycle paths become impassable

Further details

Cold air will spread across the UK during the weekend with wintry showers likely to push inland into parts of England from the North Sea.

This is likely to bring areas of accumulating snow through the period with some icy stretches developing.

At this stage no single area can be highlighted as more at risk but given the coldness of the air disruption is possible at times.



Very low likelihood of medium impacts
